Dear Families,

Progress reports will be coming home next week. Please take this time to look over how your child is doing academically and socially in school. It's a great time to encourage your child to continue working hard and setting goals for improvement. You can also reach out to your child's teacher if you have any concerns. Parent-teacher conferences are scheduled for Tuesday, November 8; however, you can connect with teachers before that if needed. We are proud of the growth our Wildcats have already made during the first five weeks of school!

Respectfully,
Missy Hooks
Principal
